Circular No: 111

Subject: Revaluation rate for 2020 announced at 9,11 %.

The (B) clause of repetitive Article 298 titled as "Inflation correction and the revaluation rate" within the Tax Procedure Law contains the detection method for annual revaluation rate. Accordingly, revaluation rate is the average price increase rate seen on the domestic producer prices index (Yİ-ÜFE) in October (including October) of the year in which the revaluation would be done compared to the same period of the previous year. As per that provision, the revaluation rate for 2020 has been announced at 9,11 % by the Treasury and Finance Ministry.

This rate is being used for detecting;

Certain fixed limits and amounts existing within tax laws and to be applied in 2021,

Within the scope of temporary Article 61 in Income Tax Law, the amount of investment allowance exemption to be benefitted in 2020, which had been deserved through investments made regarding investment incentive documents drafted over the applications before 24.04.2003 but not deducted due to low income during the concerning years,

Within the Law no.5746, the amount of research & development (R&D) deduction to be benefitted in 2020, which could not be deducted during the concerning taxation period due to low income.

The Tax Procedure Law General Communique series no.521, in which the revaluation rate is announced has been published in the Official Gazette dated 28 November 2020. At the same time, this rate declared by the Ministry is also applicable on the last period of advance tax for 2020 (Jan-Dec).
